CHINESE AND JAPANESE SOLDIERS CLASH; 3 DEAD

PEKING, Sept. 19 .- A clash be tween Chinese and Japanese soldiers and policemen has occurred along the Yalu river over the question of lumber interests. Two Chinese and one Japaneses were killed and many were wounded. Japanese troops have crossed into Manchuria and seized the Chinese town of Tsian Hsien which they are holding pending an investigation. The Chinese government alleges thaat the trouble was started by the employes of a labor company and not by Chinese soldiers and denies all responsibility. Japanese officials declare that Chinese soldiers incited the trouble.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE OPENS

WEDNESDAY MARKS FIRST DAY OF WORK.

President Harker Makes Impressive Talk to Young Ladies at Chapel-Several Others Present Called on for Remarks.

Wednesday marked the opening day of school work at the Illinois unusual or out of the ordinary of the regular routine school work of the day occurred at the chapel exercises in the morning. Dr. Joseph R. Harker, president of the institution, made a very strong address to the young women present. Dr. Harker called attention to the fact that the students had spent a number of years of work in preparing themselves for attendance at such an institution of learning as the Woman's College and that during these years the college had been preparing itself beautiful word picture of what he referred to as these converging After the president's address Mrs. Florence Pierron Hartmann sang the Recessional by De Koven. Dr. Harker then called on a number of those in the audience for remarks. Among those who responded were er. F. M. Rule, Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. William Finley Brown and Mrs. T. J. Gift of Falls City, Neb., whose daughter is just entering the institution this fall as a member of the freshman class.

Dr. Harker also called attention of the students to Rev. A. A. Todd, pastor of the First Baptist church of the Central Christian church, who were in the audience, and reminded them that they were expected to attend the church of their faith in this city while attending school. Althe the Illinois Woman's College is a Methodist institution this plan has always been followed in regard to church attendance.

The student association is planning extensive Red Cross work at the college this year and it is the expectation of the management that practical courses along this line will be introduced. These courses will include first aid work, food conservation talks, and the like, and will be open to the ladies of this community as well as to the students at

SERIOUSLY INJURED

HURT TUESDAY NIGHT; STILL UNCONSCIOUS

to Our Savior's Hospital in Critical Condition-Not Known How Accident Occured.

One of those unaccountable and unpreventable accidents which befall human kind and which at the time are inexplainable, happened some time Tuesday evening near the little town of Drake, Ill. As near as can be ascertained the facts of the case are as follows: About seven or eight o'clock Tuesday evening a freight train was wrecked on the Chicago & Alton south of Roodhouse and about one half mile from the farm home of Mr. Stanton Patterson. Mr. Patterson and others of the neighborhood hearing the accident at once left Thomas Kirkman. home and went to the scene of the trouble. It is thought that his wife, Mrs. Patterson, left the house soon after her husband did with the same intention in mind. Patterson returned home between nine thirty and ten o'clock and altho occupying separate bed rooms with his wife noticed that she was not at home. But as there was one of the neighbors who was ill he thought that possibly she was spending the night there in caring for the sick. He gave the matter no further thought and went to bed. Arising early yesterday morning he went to the field to milk the cows and between five and his wife lying in the ditch at the ever, as it is understood that he was side of the road in an unconscious married this morning to Miss Addie

Personally I have strong reasons spent a very pleasant year in Germany and there made many warm the great minds of that land; at a place where the statesmen, the generals and even the Kaiser himself sometimes came; and strong ties of blood bind me to that nation but the one fact remains that Prussian militarism is a menace to the peace and welfare of the world.

Must Fight to Finish. In the August Atlantic Monthly an article by Mr. Kellogg, who, like his friend, David Starr Jordan, is naturally a pacifist who spent much time at German headquarters where he came in contact with the great leaders of the national, political and military and the Kaiser himself, where he had unusual facilities for understanding the issues fully and he said that the German kultur, the faith in the principle to rule the world by force, the survival of the fittest, the determin-Mrs. Charles Rousey near Franklin, ation to fight to the end regardless the dictates of humanity and cililization made it all important to fight this war to a finish. The enemy will not stop at any length of trusted the smooth words of her Mrs. Herbert Riggs has been seri- diplomants but the Zimmerman note and the exposures brought to light by ambassador Gerard fully disclose he purposes of the German rulers. They have murdered our people on land and sea, nor will they stop at any length of cruelty and force to accomplish their object and we could not be true to ourselves and our land if we failed to resent it The issue is democracy against autocracy. This is not a phrase coined by an educated president but wholly true. In this war it is all important that the college should do its part, Dean Hayden has the addresses of all former students now in the ranks and has written to them and others and he will endeavor to secure . in the future all at any time connected with the college who serve their country. Illinois college will be true to its traditions and do its part. It is worthy of notice that many of our soldier students are officers. More than twenty per cent of the men in college last year are in the service. It has often been asked what effect the war would have on the college and on the athletics. I think the array of young men before me will partly answer that question. Do not by any means lessen your interests In the bank of Dunlap, Russel & in your college work. NORTH CAROLINA MAN HAS INTERESTING STORY

Waldron Baily Was Visitor in Jacksonville Yesterday and Told Experiences of Life Among Moon-shiners in Mountainous Districts.

Waldron Baily of Elkin, North Carolina, was in the city yesterday and to a Journal reporter narrated some interesting experiences. The gentleman was New England born but for ten years made his home in the mountains among the moonshiners and had a great variety of experiences. He is the author of a book entitled "The Heart of the Blue Ridge," which has had a great sale as it was written from personal observation. Among the stories he told two are given.

Among the feudists was a man who changed his ways and became converted and turned preacher. He was holding forth in a church one day when two of his nephews who knew him well, happened along and asked who was preaching. Being told, and also being somewhat under the influence of liquor, they en. tered the church and broke up the service. They went across the line to a factory where they obtained employment and while they were working there an officer came to arrest them for breaking up the meeting.

Roughly Treated.

They went back without requisition papers and after they had crossed the line they were met by officials whot reated them as murderers are treated; that is, the hands of the culprits were tied behind them and with long ropes which were permitted to drag a good distance behind them so that in case the prisoners tried to escape they could be caught more easily.

They had an uncle who heard of the trouble and arrest and who went to the court and arranged to furnish bail, not willing that they should be lodged in jail. He then started out to meet the officers and prisoners. When he saw that they were tied like murderers his wrath was great and drawing his six shooter he leveled it at the minions of the law, bade them cut the boys loose, dismount and let them ride which was done and in that way they went on to the county seat.

The officers told what had been done and the old man was arrested for interfering with officers of the law. His trial took place in a crowded court room and when the sentence, a year in the penitentiary at hard work was pronounced, the prisoner rose and drawing a revolver which he had been permitted to carry said: "I ain't gwine," and began shooting.

His son who was in the back part of the room was accused, and probably rightly, of shooting the judge, who was killed along with one of the jury and two witnesses, a man and a girl. The prisoner was badly wounded but attempted to escape without success and subsequently he and his son were tried and executed. Another Incident.

A veteran moonshiner had stored in an old building several barrels of whisky and one night a man stole in and took away four barrels of the stuff. His wife was a sister of the man robbed and didn't approve ushand's performance and they had some hot words over the matter and finally the woman left the house. A short time after Mr. Baily was riding along the road early one morning and saw ahead on object across the highway and drawing nearer preceived it was the man who had stolen the liquor. At first he seemed asleep but close investigation showed he was dead with a lot of holes in his body. Mr. Baily was at a loss regarding the course to pursue when he looked up and saw a woman rapidly walking toward him. She proved to be the wife of the murdered man and as she came up she stooped over the body and said:

"The devils in hell is making him sizzle by this time."

The people down there regard whiskey making as an inalienable right and have a bitter animosity for all U. S. officers who hunt them down. Every stranger appearing has to give a good account of himself and many a minion of Uncle Sam has been made to bite the dust for Meredosia also had in Morgan county for some years, was nearly all subject to inundations iness in the fall of 1833 when in times of high water. The worst of these events were in 1844, 1849, 1851 and 1858. In some of those times, if not all, Naples rivalled the other Italian named watering place, Meredosia was also ahead of Naples, in having from 1839 to 1849 the first and only railroad in the state-the Northern Cross. In 1849 Naples was made the west end of The Sangamon & Morgan railroad. But again, in 1859, Meredosia was ahead, with a through train to Quincy, in connection with the Great Western of Illinois This gave Meredosia a road from the Mississippi at Quincy to Lake Erie, at Toledo, Ohio. Naples still retained its end of the railroad, and, in 1870 it was extended across Pike county to Hannibal, Mo., both branches by Meredosia and Naples being then under the management of the Toledo, Wabash and Western or Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific

Chicago Drives Anderson From Slab in Third-Merkle Hits Home Run -Braves and Pirates Split Twin

Chicago, Sept. 19.-New York closed its National League season in Chicago today with a 4 to 3 defeat. Two singles with a sacrifice and an infield out gave Chicago one run in the first. A double, a sacrifice and a single netted one in the third and after Zeider perished stealing Merkle hit the ball on on a line into the left field bleachers for a homer. Anderson who succeeded Sallee held the locals hitless until the seventh, when a single, two infield outs and a wild pitch sent the winning run across.

> IN CORN MARKET Serious Crop Damage By Frost Unlikely - Seaboard Speculators

Among Leading Buyers.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Fresh uneasiness over chances that serious crop damage from frost was not unlikely gave an advantage to the bulls today in corn. Frequent violent shifts in values took place, and the close was unsettled, ½ to ½c net higher at $1.19 to $1.19½ December and $1.15½ to $1.16 May. Oats lost ½ to %60½c Provisions wound up at an advance of 17c to 77c.

Seaboard speculators were said to have Seaboard speculators were said to have been among the leading corn buyers. Heavy selling on the upturns carried prices swiftly backward several times, but in every case the reaction failed to last as the absorbitive power of the market held out robust to the end. Freezing weather was reported at Minot. N. D., and unsettled cooler conditions were indicated for a big portion of the corn belt.

Oats fluctuated with corn, but showed less buoyancy on account of the comparative slowness of cash demand both seaative slowness of cash demand both seaboard and domestic. Incoming supplies of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth were reported as nearly equalling in volume the totals of a year ago. At Chicago, however, the arrival were far from amounting to enough to meet the requisitions from millers. Big shipments of meats stimulated a rise in the provision list. Higher quotations on hogs tended also to strengthen the market.
